

Introduction

Human has learned the nature again by primitive discoveries. They spread in all direction of the world by the impulse which is triggered by curiosity without any hedge. In this way the geographies where the human lives is formed by his own hand. The palaces on the world where there weren't human's step are reached.

He wanted more and more while discovering. His biggest mistake in this period was reckoning the civilization exists during their discovery of their own explanation and everything improve by its existing. Ok. Is there a reference point of all improvement including evolution? Actually the question is; May universe have a DNA? and the reason of human's primitive life period's cloud be this long, may it be becoming distant himself and nature or alienation?

COLOTRON

Mankind started to know himself by little discoveries.

Time is changing. We are carrying our civilization forward when we discover the discoveries of the humankind lived before ages. How the first men still sort out today's technology while our technology was improved this much?

All discoveries which continuous enchantingly caries our culture a step forward. Human better understands the nature when they get to know himself. Everything forwards in a specific order's chain. Firsth mankind who live? Adaptable to the nature when they were in a period of living a cloak of secret is spacing.

Microorganism that is a live and their movements are formed by scripts can they light up the unknown mystery of universe? Today there are four doctors who came together to find an answer to this question.

Firsth mankind had a sense that nature was not only made up of himself. He had a recognition of the only difference was his conscious level.

Unfortunately, today human has started to live in their own world and has forgotten the miraculous communication that first mankind knew. Today he is researching the little live creatures by turning back and enters their world.

These living creatures were much more smaller microorganism than himself. Our sort has discovered these microorganisms in recent history. They found the answers for many of darkness. Microorganism are not secret anymore. Human kind has carried there little creatures to important point in their life. At the last phase they have started to sereh how to communicate with them.

Is there a way to communicate with them in reality? Today's human be lives that they can communicate with these little microorganisms by they don't know how to do this. They realized that if they communicate with them they will reach to important turn out.

Doctor Lui said "I found".

At that moment other 3 friends who work with him in the laboratory Mierre, Alex and Murat returned to him by leaving their work. Lui continued.

"I cough a frequency. Vibration changes in the same way when others movement and position changes. There is a stability here." said excitedly.

Alex put himself in front of the computer where the discovery was on the screen by pushing Dr. Lui with his excitement. Just about 20 minutes Everyone in there started to watch the data at the moment. Yes...

There were a stability at the every changes in frequency and microorganism movements.

"That is it" "Found" said Alex.

They weren't aware of yet their paean in that small room will resonance in the future for to carry human being out of the borders of universe.

Mierre , Alex and Murat ...

Human being will discover every part of universe by them. They will build the new home in the universe and colonies there but it was early at the moment. These 4 doctors who many may think to have first steps on the way to communicate with microorganism this discovery may open different world`s door in future.

Microorganism communicate between each other meaningfully and this was discovered now.

Human being found the communication between microorganism now. It was a big discovery for human being. The communication was happening between these little creature`s world based on willpower.

This is the discovery which will be technologic jump for the name of human being years even they weren`t aware of.

To say that to be behind the time at this phase will be the way of universe even not know by them.

Humankind made his first physical discovery which they can have the answer for understand questions that were asked up to now about darkness of universe by this 4 doctors discovery. Now human carries the geography where he has lived on the world over his dreams by his enormous curiosity by this discovery.

On the other part of the world a group of computer engineers were working on the protocol of alternative communication network named Sheza while this discovery was being made in that little labrotuvary.

The structure that composes Sheza System is the only way for the communication between the builders on the universe which will build as a virtual reality modeling. This system divided into 3 parts in itself. These are; the algorithm of users can learn their own language a dynamic physical motor system that can the report the conduct against the nature conditions by automatic analysis and smart universe modal which can learn the given reaction by reporting the print outs. Engineers will try to provide the integration of the communication of creature on the virtual environment to environment by this Sheza System which was built by them. But this communication was not limited by the communication between the users.

More over this structure will provide the integration of the total users personally in all change will cause the change of the environment individual dynamics and will be constantly updating structure. This universe will be a mirror which reflects all components in reality.

The users in virtual universe will form their modeling language inspection and coding study with body language modeling module. With this module user all movements will be unfixed and each user's characteristic movement map will be formed. The body language which will be formed by modeling will form the base behind the communication between them.

Body language a behavior is not the same. Engineers separated the behavior a body language in the structure at first. They will be able to form user's communication unique in this way.

The idea of modal; the physics of nature that will be formed in virtual universe doesn't identify the living creatures body language and the physics identify the both user's behavior and how they will stay against nature movements in virtual universe.

This base of virtual vitality will not be the fight of human against nature unlike this it will be adaptation against nature. The system which will provide humanity adaptation on this virtual universe is possible with behavior modeling module.

The order detail of Sheza System is hidden in virtual universe modeling. This detail is the modeling which will form the simulation for all studies on modeling module against nature conditions and body language modeling module.

By this way Engineers will be able to program automatically the user's in virtual universe against each conditions position by changeable and learnable communication protocol.

This idea which driven the human mind in other worlds Sheza System is a different system from all protocols which can decide again in all conditions and in a field where only communication is possible including communication between user`s.

The important factor which makes it different is to have the communication on one to one teachable universe modeling. On the virtual universe model the universe that will host the human is a kind of artificial intelligence which can communicate itself through them.

Human being is fictionalizing a communication mechanism as a first time on virtual world. With this mechanism users can communicate not only their self but also with universe itself. The thing which differed the Sheza System from all others is the communication networks each piece forms the total system. This means the reality which will be formed will be able to communicate with over all users.

Universe will be known itself life this and realize actuality. The engineers are progressing by confident steps to world to the result by having success on this 3 steps. The thing that they don`t know is a simulation of microorganism communication which was discovered by 4 doctors who were researching on different parts of the world in reality.

At this moment Mierre succeeded to solve their language by coding the frequency which the microorganisms do with their every movement with one world.

It was a timelessness discovery human was not the human like today`s human. They are improved creator who can start discovering different planets and galaxies without passing light speed with this new discovery even no need to physical power.

The human who discovered the communication between microorganisms will have a discovery trip to all over the universe. Alex was searching on the internet with Murat about this discovery. Instantly with a gapingly face. He said "Look" to Murat.

Murat bended over Alex`s monitor and started to read the new communication protocol documents that Vera who is a computer engineer published on internet platform and he started to read with Alex.

It was unbelievable!

All answers of whale questions which could be remembered from the documents of this protocol comes in front like the missing parts of this puzzle and completes the entirement.

Could it be said that “Microorganisms have communication with the DNA of universe”? If it is like this May we do the fulfilment of the random about the mutation that is on every stage of evaluation?

White they were continuing reading this sentence which was on Vera`s lines attracted their attention.

“This formed virtual universe communication protocol provides a communication with users which forms complete organization. “

Here may be on today`s reality universe were on communication with all elements which forms the aliveness even human by this mechanism that microorganisms use also.

“Get Ready” Alex said” We are going”

Murat said “Lets meet at the laboratory” by calling Lui. In a short time Mierre, Lui, Alex and Murat met at the Laboratory. After that night they continued with Computer Engineers Vera, Mia and together as 7 persons.

Discovering the world was even that hard was human ready for this new jump? Discovering the universe and was there a life on another world? Will it satisfy the human to have answer to this question this time?

Tod stood up at the first introduction dinner. “Friends” he said. He continued by turning to Mierre.

Today the thing which made us to come together was obvious to bring the technology to the unestimated paint doesn`t it makes you think the structure which is the same as your discovery but we showed it up without unaware of you?

Being sure herself Mierre raised her hand and said “No”

“Please let me explain” in reality the discovery we made and the question you asked by the system you discovered is totally justifying each other. I congratulate you. You made correction. The thing which carried out the communication protocol you made is the universe itself. Because communication mechanism like on microorganisms happens over you itself.

This detection was extra ordinary. In fact, all happenings are more than discovery of communication network it was universe functioning algorithm. Maybe it was the beginning of a trip toward to universe`s DNA.

In this case if there is a structure like DNA of referenced for the improvement of the aliveness on the universe. The final point where aliveness may arrive in another word is there a last stop where elevation can carry all aliveness depending on the time?

Lui stood up without waiting for Mierre to finish.

“Please” she said. With the complaining voice.

“Yes. We are excited but we are not sure about everything yet. We need to have much more try and answer many more questions. Let`s stop this talking until we will come together again to study on this.”

Lui was right there was a long way to go.

It was more than 4 months after discovery and a device was developed to communicate with microorganisms by the engineers this will reveal the all unknowns.

With this device you may interference the mutation period of the microorganisms in their own will and it will lead up many imbruements in medical world.

This morning, Lui and Vera caught a signal while they were studying on the device to have improvement. They were not inspecting any microorganism or not in communication with someone. They kept recording the signal for a while.

When they inspected the output they understood that it was repeated one after another and it was an organized transmission received from certain algorithm. It was a message it wasn't casual, it was meaningfully. Furthermore, it was send by machine in double organization.

Even they don't know what it is yet, the signal was containing aloof marks that they were sure about. Tod is an important software developer who has many successful studies and algorithms. He found an important evidence about the signal to be an alphabet after studying the subject.

By turning to Vera;

"This is alphabet but the message is not this" He said. This was built by using a mechanism. There isn't this kind communication. It is not the message from to send by mechanism. It was turned into communication from by something that was aware of our concept. I am trying to say that because this is like bacteria, virus or an animal ...could be everything.

Vera asked "what is it?"

"This is a message and they are trying to say that they will teach something. Yes. Yes. They say" They will tech us something if the message itself was the alphabet they could have sent the message instead of alphabet. They only sent a cycle of limited character by signal in double order. They say "start here!" they should have learned this." He said. Being sure himself.

I was hard to believe but he is cryptology and he must have done it correct. The signals kept coming regularly in on way for a long time. The team was on a 7-month discovery trip just arrived on the world.

They were like a baby who does not know how to talk on a new communication network.

They will learn...

At the night when they received the first message Murat said "I wonder if" with a voice of thinking something by turning to Mierre who sits next to him and kept talking "is that the universe itself which sent this message"

“It can’t be” said Mierre. Something which has a communication with us should be like us. Because it has a learned language.” No! No!” she said.

“Can’t be. Can’t be for sure”.

She was right. This message can’t come from universe itself. This message was coming from a civilization that discovered the this communication mechanism millions of years before them and from a galaxy billion light years away.

They were right.

They will teach...

In time the team had an information by changing the received signals into meaningful expressions and watching the microorganisms another side. The communication has started between this civilization. A lot of information received by these coming signals about how the creatives are there in far galaxies on smart life.

Not long before, team has understood that this mechanism has been used for million years by the millions of civilizations on the planet. Each civilization teaches this mechanism to the new attendant civilization and provides the data to improve the technology. The world is in communication network and it was just a moment to name today’s antique. The happening is the messenger for the million years’ technology.

It is the time now to share the all discoveries and received data with world’s people.

Lui was on the platform and he was on the air with hundreds of tv channels an on internet platform with live talking just in front of cameras. He waited first and had a deep breath.

“Yes” he said. We had a communication.

Cheering voice came with bemused look on the face room the audience at that moment. It was known by everybody.

AI data has been shared transparently by universities and science institutions after that day. The platform was formed for processing and solving data. In this platform where all these received data was processed and solved to make it understandable for people.

For a while community had a method to decrypt the photos which were received in the messages. In a short time, these pictures were solved and became visual communication stage. Now the people were able to see creator's life forms which are billions light years away knows their system and their scope was widening every day. The flow of petabyte data was provided from other planets which are waiting to be discovered.

The technology on the earth had a great jump in parallel to all improvements. This morning a message received by the member's device from community.

"We are inviting you here."

Lots of message follows each other including the directives how to compile the codes of this agitate message that could be send by VR data.

Human was ready to see the places on these photos in 3D.

The munificent experience period has started for human by receiving data from planets after first transmission to VR glasses. The VR technology (Virtual Reality) that was enough to communicate with the other planet residents this is the improved technology by the help of new friends, was enough to satisfy their curiosity to the people who was submitted to their curiosity and to make them to have information about what is going on there by visiting these planets with these glasses.

Human has started to tour the planets like they are there even they are not there physically. The earth's people don't have ordinary acceptance anymore after starting to know the unknown and carrying the human up to upper stage.

The life on the world has had an interesting change and besides several Countries it became focal point for many countries. Human started to look at the universe by children's glasses by going away from their dull life and from their bothering daily life by the community that are going in numbers.

Maybe it was the biggest discovery after fire. It was the beginning of the period that will make it existing in another part of universe.

Human who discovered math thousand years ago has a trip to the unknown of universe instead of sovereignty to world with the join purpose.

Human had a success to find different planets where they can live while they are continuing to travel to unknown even they are not physically on them.

Human that looks like how late he is to the communication network which was used for millions of years by the other planets when we considered the age of world in million years' time period it is obvious that the one who is late are today us.

At this point where we fell alone the pleasure that comes from to be witness to this technological jump, the happiness we have and the petabytes data which is waiting to be discovered every day and the reality of it is more grand than the life was disturbing us.

At this point where we think we started to be bored because of wonder human discovered Colotron Planet where he can communicate each other with the help of VR technology where he can have his avatar.

Colotron is one of the only alternative living area where it can have communication each other and all of planet's smart living from avatars.

Colotron which has waited for the human more than 7 million years to host them was ready for the human to discovered and to from colonies there after this.

This billion light year away reality was forming a place on our virtual world the main character of the today's. World was writing the endless universe's discovery trip instead of primitiveness battles and distraction in human's history.

Communication provided opportunity to create them in minds and the planets which are away from our age to live in our minds. This repeating loop is the new from in today`s world.

It was the form of knowing himself, a kind of having communication himself by VR glasses even on the corners of where Universe Liveness no existence.
